 GayWill.com My name is Kendall Brown, and I have been an estate planning lawyer for over 40 years. We all know how important it is to have a Will. But we also know what a hassle it can be. You need to find an attorney knowledgeable in gay issues, get time off work to meet with the attorney multiple times, and pay the cost of having your Will prepared. When you're done with all of that, you end up with a Will that is full of legalize and difficult to understand.	My name is Kendall Brown, and I have been an estate planning lawyer for over 40 years. When you finish entering, you will be given an easy-to-read diagram. The diagram will show you exactly what is in your Will and other documents.

If you need help with this step, just look at the bottom of each screen for informative tips. There are also links on our web page to help you find online tutorials and a helpful worksheet.

Your second step is to approve your diagram and provide payment. To indicate approval of your diagram, click on the “Notify Us” button on our web page. It’s at this point that we ask you to pay for your documents. Your cost for the Will is only $50. The set of Powers is just $10.

We then use an automated system which guarantees that the documents are consistent with the diagram you have prepared. GayWill will email your estate plan with instructions for signing. Your documents become legal once they have been signed as explained in the instructions.

Since there is no cost to enter your information, there's no reason why you shouldn't start now. Click on the "Make Diagram" button on this web page. If you need to change your answers or add additional information, you can return to GayWill at any time and make whatever changes you want to make.

Note that you can prepare a Will, a Revocable Trust, a Living Will, a Do Not Resuscitate form, a Health Care Power of Attorney, a HIPPA Release and a Financial Power of Attorney. The Frequently Asked Questions or FAQ page of our web site will explain to you the purpose of each of these documents.
